

REFLECTION ON MY VALUES

Values and guiding principles are dialectically structured:

Any value (or virtue) can only have a favourable effect if it is in sustained tension (balance) with a positive counterpart (a "sister virtue"). Without this tension, every value degenerates into an unvalue (non/negative value).

Example

It is not about finding the centre, but about keeping a dynamic balance

